Dear Uncle George:-

Dows is at the moment at home with a minor illness,- don't worry, it is nothing serious- and so I am writing you in haste to tell you there is no hurry about your 'appreciation' of Papa George. We have decided that it will be best to put a formal notice of his death in the August Bulletin, very short, and then put yours in the October Bulletin. So many of our readers are away during the summer that we feel that the August number will not be conspicuous enough for your article. So you may take your time with it. I am enclosing a biographical summary that we made up for him at the time of his honorary degree, for it contains all the facts and figures you will want to be sure of. And on Thursday I shall send you the copy of Dows' own ^{article} ~~summary~~ for the American Journal of Archaeology about Reisner. We have put up a small memorial exhibition to him of which I shall send you a photograph when it is printed.

My love to you and Tante Lise. It is very late and I must get this off, or I should write more,

Ever affectionately,

Betty
