Dear Dr. Steindorff:

I hope this letter will find you in good health. When you published your very interesting article on the reliefs from the temple of Sebennytos, of which most of them passed through my hands, I was not able to give you the photograph of a most important one. Now, I have this piece in the gallery and I have taken a good picture of it which I am sending herewith. As you will see, it is a very rare type and the figure on the left might be the king Ptolemy holding the key of life.

Trusting you will like this relief, and with kindest regards,

Sincerely yours,
