Dear Dr. Steindorff:

After our recent correspondence, we checked into the slip-up which had occurred with your COPTIC GRAMMAR. We found that the inexcusable delay had been caused by the failure of an inter-office communication to reach the desk to which it was addressed. Rising costs have created in our organization a rapid personnel turnover of late, and the disappearance of the note in question is most likely due to some slip-up by inexperienced help.

We are giving you this information as an explanation, although we realize that it is not a valid excuse.

Still we should like to repeat that we are greatly interested in your work and that we should be happy to have some part in its publication.

Very truly yours,

Fred Wieck
Associate Editor
