Dear Dr. Steindorff:

In Mr. Couch's absence from the office on a short business trip, I am taking the liberty of acknowledging your letter of January 18.

We are pleased that we have reached mutual agreement regarding the terms of the contract. As yet, we have not heard from Bollingen that they sanction the royalty arrangement, but we expect that they will agree.

Perhaps we should have cautioned you that your signature is required twice in each copy of the contract--on page ~~four~~ and on the codicil. You have signed only the codicil. Accordingly, I am returning both copies of the contract with the request that you add two more signatures. I have x'd the places.

Thank you for your clear statement regarding rights to the "Lehrbuch der Koptischen Grammatik" and to the "Koptischen Grammatik" (Berlin, 1904). Our minds are at rest.

Very sincerely yours,
